

Q&A

What are your most popular products or services?

Providing quality legal work tailored to our individual client's needs. There is no "one size fits all" approach in our firm.

What tip would you give women who are starting a business?

Surround yourself with others who can guide you through the process; a mentor, someone who has started their own business, an accountant, an attorney, and really good friends.

What motivates you on a daily basis?

Helping clients navigate complicated business transactions by providing them with the tools to comply with the countless statutes and regulations governing their business. And the interesting legal challenges we get to solve every day!

What is your motto or theme song?

We are both shamefully addicted to the Glee sound tracks. You might hear us singing "Defying Gravity" aloud in our offices if you walk by at the right time.

What place inspires you and why?

The mountains—which embody peace, majesty and grace—that we are fortunate to view from our windows every day.
